BOY KILLED

By Jeffersontown Interurban Car
While Playing Near Tracks—Elmer Broady, Aged 8.

Acely Elmer Broady, eight year old son of Acely Broady, the log man, who resides in the Lutheran parsonage near the Methodist church in Jeffersontown, was run over by an electric car at 2:22 o'clock Monday afternoon and instantly killed. The boy, it is said, was playing tag with his little sister, Mamie, on the street, and while running from his sister ran in front of the car. The car was run by Jesse M. Yocum, conductor, and John J. Keeley, motorman. As soon as the motorman saw the boy he stopped the car, and the little fellow was taken from between the wheels of the front truck, his body cut and bruised, many bones crushed and life extinct.

Coroner Ellis Duncan was notified and held an inquest Tuesday morning. The coroner's jury was composed of Harvey Stout, W. A. Wheeler, Ben Yates, W. L. Herbold, J. C. Bowles and T. J. C. C. Several witnesses were called and examined, after which the jury brought in a verdict to the effect that the boy lost his life from an unavoidable accident.

The boy's body was taken in charge by Myers & Blankenbaker, funeral directors, and carried to Sellersburg, Ind., the former home of Mr. Broady, for interment. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad loss.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Will Meet Next Thursday Night
—Citizens of Town Invited To Attend.

Another open meeting of the Jeffersontown Commercial Club will be held at Bruce Hall Thursday night of next week at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend, as the most important matter to come before the body is the subject of electric lights for the community.

Since the Louisville Lighting Company has a limited amount of money for making extensions of its lines into the country and since there are other places working hard for the light, it is beginning to look like Jeffersontown will be left "hanging in the rear." Little progress has been made since last week, and the people seem to have dropped the matter entirely. The business men and property holders want the light and seem anxious that we get it, but are sitting still waiting for the "action" to be taken, and the other fellow is not doing the work.

The Jeffersonian was informed this morning by a gentleman connected with the Louisville Lighting Company that he did not think his company would make the extension for the small number of contracts that has been submitted, about seventy in all. There has been a large number of promises, but signed contracts are what the company wants. If you are interested in this matter, don't sit still and wait for some one to come over you and knock you down in order to get you to sign a paper for electric lights, but get some number of the committee at once. The committee working on the proposition is composed of J. C. Alcock, chairman; Frank Panelli, Fred Myers, Fred Hoke, Carl A. Hummel, secretary, and most any member of the "Commercial Club." Let's get busy and settle this matter and quit talking about it. We have "other fish to fry."

BOYS' CORN CLUB

Discussed At Meeting Held At Supt. Stivers' Office Saturday
By State Agent.

Mr. Fred Mutchler, of the Western Normal School at Bowling Green, State Agent for Boys' Corn Clubs in Kentucky for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, delivered a splendid address to a large number of Jefferson county boys and others at the courthouse last Saturday. He explained to the boys how they could raise money and better corn by observing the "A. B. C." rules of corn growing, which are preparing the soil, selecting the seed and cultivation.

County Superintendent Orville Stivers, who is at the head of this organization in Jefferson county, and who has worked the club up to its present proportions, distributed seed corn to all the members of the Club. There are now over one hundred members of the corn and potato clubs, and about one hundred members of the Girls' Tomato Club in Jefferson county, and their names will be published in The Jeffersonian next week.

Mr. J. B. McArthur, chairman of the educational committee of the Louisville Commercial Club, which has offered $20 in gold in prizes to the Boys' Corn and Potato Clubs and Girls' Tomato Clubs, was present and talked to the boys. Mr. E. R. Sprowl, of Jeffersontown, vice-chairman of this committee, was also present, as well as many other leading business men who are interested in the success of the organizations.

Beloved Woman Dies.

Mrs. Anna Dale Vincent, seventy-two years of age, died Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of her sister, Mrs. John D. Pearce, in Louisville. She was a native of Jefferson county and a widow of Stanley S. Vincent. Mrs. Vincent was a teacher in the public schools of Jefferson county for several years, and at one time taught the Jeffersontown school. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church and was loved by all who knew her. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John D. Pearce and Mrs. T. O. Madox, and a brother, W. N. Dale. The funeral took place today at Simpsonville, her old home, where a large crowd gathered to pay the last sad respects to a good woman.

COL. A. R. GOOSE

One Of Best Known Citizens Of County Passes Away At Advanced Age.

Col. A. R. Goose, aged 79 years, passed away at his home near Okolona in Jefferson county, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, after a long illness of general debility. Several days ago Col. Goose was injured in a fall and never fully recovered. He reported that he was feeling exceptionally well yesterday morning, but suddenly became very ill and a physician was called. Before his arrival, however, Col. Goose had passed away.

In the death of Col. Goose the county loses one of its oldest and best known citizens. He was born and reared in the Tucker Station neighborhood, near Jeffersontown, but lived in Louisville the greater part of his life. He owned a lively stable in the city and ran a stage from Louisville to Taylorsville several years ago before the railroad was run to the Spencer county capital. He was known far and near and was held in high esteem by all.

Col. Goose is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Mary Lovell. Had he lived until sometime next month the two would have been married fifty years, and they had planned to hold a golden wedding celebration. Col. Goose is also survived by three sons, Porcupine, Richard and Arthur, of Louisville, and one daughter, Mrs. Allie Baker, of Louisville; two brothers, Luther and Rufus Goose, of Louisville, and two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Harding, of Louisville, and Mrs. Mary Ann Harris, of Summitville, Ind. Twelve grand-children and two great-grand-children also survive.

The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 11 o'clock at the Jeffersontown Lutheran church by Rev. S. S. Walz, D. D., Col. Goose being a member of Dr. Walz's church in Louisville. Interment will take place in the Jeffersontown cemetery.

FAIR COMPANY

Will Make Extensive Improvements at Fairgrounds—New Directors Elected.

At a recent meeting of the Penn Creek Fair Company, several new directors were elected, a large number of the best known men in Jefferson county having become stockholders. The officers of the company are the same as last year—Bryan Adams, president; Louis Diemer, treasurer, and E. B. Berry, secretary. Only two of the old directors remain on the board—L. C. Owings and Henry Deibel. The others are R. O. Barney, John Gerlach, Frank Bauer, John Wurtele, Harvey Frey, Chas. C. Wheeler and Chas. Scholtz.

A meeting of the directors was held last Friday and plans completed for having the catalog printed and for making some improvements at the fairgrounds. A new secretary's and treasurer's office, woodwain in front of the grand stand and new fences will be erected at once. The land will be drained and the grounds and buildings will be placed in first-class shape.

It is announced that the premiums this year are very liberal and the best fair ever held is expected. The dates for this year are August 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Progressive Man.

Jeffersontown has a large number of progressive business men, among whom is Mr. J. C. Bruce, who owns quite a great deal of property here and who keeps his property always in first-class shape. The business of Mr. J. C. Bruce, the blacksmith and wagon maker, who rents his shop from Mr. Bruce, has grown to such an extent that he needed more room to do his work, and when called upon Mr. Bruce immediately erected an additional building on his lot in the rear of the office of The Jeffersonian. Not only this but the lot has been cleaned and put in a fine shape, besides new macadam road from the public square to the shop is now being built.

The Jeffersonian can save you money if you will have your printing done at this office. Call us up over either phone, Home or Cumberland.

Handles National In Every Speedway Race
DON HERR.

One of the youngest drivers who will contest in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes is Don Herr who will be at the wheel of one of the big blue-banded National racing cars. Herr will be a teammate of Wilcox and Merz, who have been on the National racing team for the past three years and have been the winners of more events than all other combination of cars and pilots.

SPEED KING TO APPEAR

"WILD BOB" BURMAN WILL DRIVE BIG CAR IN 500-MILE RACE.

Cutting Racer Comes Close to Limit of Power Allowed Starters in Memorial Day Event at Indianapolis.

Definite confirmation of the rumor that "Wild Bob" Burman, the world's speed king, will be seen at the wheel of a Cutting car in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes race, has been received at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. In the form of an entry of the car and the nomination of Burman as driver. For some time it has been understood that the speed monarch would pilot a Cutting machine, but no definite entry had been made until recently.

Burman is probably more in the public eye than any other racing driver, because of his succession to the throne of speed king and his holding of the world's straightaway records made at Daytona, Florida. He has been a contender in most of the great motor events in the past four or five years and has always figured more or less prominently.

The entry of the Cutting car, with Burman named as driver, means that he will devote the next two months of his time to preparing the car and testing it out over the motor speedway course. He probably will do very little exhibition driving or mile track racing in the meantime.

Harry Goetz, who was the mecha-nician for Ray Harroun, winner of the last 500-mile race in a Marmon car, has gone with Burman and is helping him in the building of his special racing car. Goetz is one of the most skilled mechanics in the country and Burman looks to him to add materially in the success of his next appearance in a big race.

The car which Burman will drive is a 1912 special model, weighing 2,200 pounds, which is 300 pounds above the minimum weight allowed in the race.
 The motor has four cylinders with a bore of five and seven thirty-seconds inches, and a piston stroke of seven inches, giving a piston displacement of 157.8 cubic inches. It is believed that the motor will develop about one hundred horse-power, and it probably will be about the largest in the race.
 The motor is specially built to come just within the six hundred cubic inches set upon the contest by the Speedway management.

The other entries to the race are two Stutz cars, to be driven by Gil Anderson and Len Zengel, with Billy Knipper as relief; two Nationals with Don Herr, Howard Wilcox and Charley Merz named as drivers; two Case cars with Harvey Herrick and Louis Dis-cove nominated as regular drivers; two Mercedes cars with Ralph De Palma and Spencer Wishart at the wheels; one Fiat to be driven by Teddy Terloff; a Simplex with Ray Dingley to drive and a Lexington to be piloted by Harry Knight.

Ralph Mulford has purchased a six-cylinder Knox which he will drive in the race, although his entry has not formally been made.

This early field of starters is considered the cream of driving and racing talent of the country, and means that the former record of 7461 miles per hour established for the 500 miles is certain to fall in the next Memorial Day contest.

The early seat and hotel reservations which have been made indicate that the crowd will be greater than that which witnessed last year's event.
 The throng which witnessed the last 500-mile race was the largest that ever passed into any one enclosure to attend a sporting contest of any description.

Ohio Driver Contracts
With Stutz Makers
LEN ZENGEL.

Len Zengel, of Dayton, Ohio, one of the greatest of motor car racing drivers, has contracted to drive one of the Stutz entries in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes
 race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day. Zengel was winner of the Elgin national stock chassis championship event in 1911, and is looked upon as one of the big factors in the coming Speedway race.
 His team-mate is Gil Anderson.

MULFORD ENTERS KNOX

FAMOUS RACE DRIVER BUYS CAR FOR BIG 500-MILE RACE.

Youth Made Fortune in Two Years Driving to Victory in Classic Events on Road and Track.

"Smiling Ralph" Mulford, whose name is known wherever motor car racing is thought of, has settled the question of his future career, by purchasing a six-cylinder Knox racing car to compete in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes
 race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day, May 26. This action on the part of Mulford in cutting loose from the Lozier company for which he had been racing ever since the beginning of his career verifies the statement that the Lozier has abandoned motor car contests.

Mulford has known one of the most successful careers of any driver engaged in the hazardous sport and his income has been greater than that of any of the greatest drivers in other lines of sport. In 1910 he annexed the Elgin national stock chassis road race as his chief performance of the season. In 1911 he finished second in the 500-mile race at the Speedway won the Vanderbilt cup race at St.
 Louis and might have known what it is to be a two time winner in one race meeting had it not been that an unfortunate accident put him out of the Grand Prix race when he was right in the lead at the last lap.

The smiling pilot has made enough money so that he has been able to go in after the $50,000 purse at the Speedway in a car owned by himself and his choice of a Knox seems to partially result of the performance of that car in the last Speedway five-century grind. In that race Fred Belche-drove the Knox entry and finished ninth, after nursing his car along at moderate speed for more than half the race. The dashy finish which this car made was one of the notable features of the long event and records show that the Knox made the fastest lap in the race. Many are believers that he can put the famous six-cylinder motor through without trouble and outdrive his record of last year when he was but a minute and a half behind the winning Marmon.

The entry of the Knox makes the field up to date twelve cars, nearly all of which have been prominent in gas-motor car events. The other entries to the race are two Nationals, driven by Wilcox, Herr and Merz; two Stutz cars driven by Anderson, Zengel and Knipper; two Case cars driven by Dischrow and Jagersberger; two Mercedes cars from Germany driven by DePalma and Wishart; a Fiat with Teddy Terloff named to drive; a Lexington with Harry Knight nominated, a Simplex to be driven by Bert Dingley, and Bob Blue in a Cutting.

This is by far the largest field that ever has been entered for any event more than three months ahead. The list of tentative entries brings the number of starters up to thirty, which is the limit placed by the Speedway management. The foreign cars entered are all owned privately and are to be entered by individuals rather than by the manufacturers. This seems to indicate that individual interest in the sport is becoming more and more of a sporting proposition pure and simple and the commercial phase is being overshadowed.
 Reservations of seats for the race and of rooms in the Indianapolis hotels have been made in vast numbers, and indications at present are that a greater crowd than the 50,000 persons which witnessed the last race will be on hand this year. The Speedway has established a room bureau and is looking a large number of rooms in private residences so that all visitors may be accommodated even if the hotels are filled.

INK DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Electric lights, then water! Let the Commercial Club get busy.

The Jeffersonian trustees should get busy with the Louisville Lighting Company.

The thing most desired in Jeffersontown at present is light—and it seems like we will get it.

The new road now being built through Jeffersontown will not hurt anything. It will add to our already pretty little town.

I met a lady at the flag raising at Pera Greff school last Sunday, who said she couldn't do without The Jeffersonian. There are many in all parts of Jefferson county just like her.

Show me a prettier subdivision in Jefferson county than Jefferson Heights and I'll make you a present of a life-subscription to the Jeffersonian.

The people of Jeffersontown are waiting for the educational committee of the Louisville Commercial Club to make a move toward taking a vote of the council on the school bond issue. That ten or twenty thousand dollar school would help a great deal if it was erected just now in Jefferson Heights.

Some time ago The Jeffersonian suggested that our subscribers lend their unfortunate neighbors, who were not taking the paper, a copy of two, so they would see what they were missing. Many of them have been borrowing the paper ever since.
Strange what some people will do for a dollar, isn't it?

The next time you have any printing to do, remember that The Jeffersonian has the only job printing office in Jefferson county outside the city, where you get first class work at very low prices. A dollar spent at home is a dollar that may come back to you. The Jeffersonians spend about $300 every month in your county. Does this mean anything to you?

No, there was no fire alarm given at the Methodist church Sunday night. The reason the large crowd rushed out without waiting for the benediction was, perhaps, because some of them wanted to get a drink before liquor was voted out of the State. The speaker delivered a splendid address on prohibition, and when he had finished the crowd made a mad rush for the door. The windstorm may have had something to do with it.

NEWSPAPER NEEDS
EVERY DOLLAR.

We presume that some people think newspaper men are persistent dunders. Let a farmer place himself in a similar position and see if he would not do the same. Suppose that he raises a thousand bushels of corn, and his neighbor should come and buy, and the price was one dollar or less, and says, "I will pay the amount in a few days." As the farmer does not want to be small about the matter he says, "All right." Another comes the same way, and another, until the whole thousand bushels of corn is trusted to a thousand different people and no one of the different persons concerns himself about it, for it is a small amount they owe the farmer and of course that will not help him any. He does not realize that the farmer has frittered away his entire crop of corn, and that its value is due in a thousand little dribbles, and that he is seriously embarrassed in his business, because his debtors treat it as a little matter. But if all would pay him promptly, which they could as well as not, it would be a large sum to the farmer and enable him to carry on his business without difficulty.

NEED OF PEOPLE WHO WILL THINK.

"As a man thinks in his heart, so he is," Shakespeare said, "For there's nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so." In this day of progress and push after the gold of this life, in seeing people who will think to stop in the mud rush and think what is best for everybody concerned. Somebody has said you should think twice before you speak once.

We need people who will think right, rather than wrong, who will think the good things about persons and things, rather than the evil.
Little can be accomplished by thinking evil; much may be accomplished by thinking good. We should not think or speak evil of our neighbors.
They have many good qualities that should be thought of. Every man, no matter how bad he may be, has some good points. He is made in God's own image, and deserves more than he gets many times.

Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, said a great deal to help the people of the world, and in speaking of love he said it "Doth not behave itself unseemly.... Thinketh no evil," and that is what we need—love for humanity, and then we will think right.

BOYS' CORN CLUBS IN JEFFERSON COUNTY.

A large crowd of boys attended the meeting last Saturday held at County Superintendent Stivers' office at the courthouse to hear Mr. Fred Mutter, State agent for Boys' Corn Clubs, discuss corn planting. It pleased to note the interest manifested by the boys in Jefferson county, and since they have many advantages in the way of good soil you may expect to hear from them when the prizes are awarded next fall.

The educational committee of the Louisville Commercial Club, the Buch-el Commercial Club, Supt. Orville J. Stivers, and many business men, are to be praised for giving encouragement to this great work. Kentucky needs to go forward along agricultural and educational lines, and by taking advantage of the knowledge given by experienced and expert men, the boys will not only add to their bank accounts, but will make a stronger and better State in the years to come. They should be given every encouragement by their parents. Even if you do not believe in the way they are instructed to grow, they are entitled to a chance to give it a trial. Let them try planting corn scientifically one time, anyway.
Then, if they are not successful, that will be the time to make a change in methods.

SCHOOL SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN.

One of the many good laws passed at the last General Assembly was the giving the women the right to vote in school elections. It is generally accepted that the new act will allow women for the first time in Kentucky to vote at the regular election for county officers in 1913, in which they will have the right to vote for County School Superintendents. Women for years have been given to this office, and quite a number of counties have women for School Superintendents. It is believed that the new law, if it does apply to this office, will have a tendency to make women Superintendents the rule rather than the exception, for if women support one of their sex it would practically make the section certain. It is generally believed, also, that women, as a rule, do not believe in their own sex like the men. A woman will nearly always criticize a man quicker than she will a man; she will see the faults in her own sex, and be ready to condemn a woman for evil, when she would excuse a man. However, that may be, the women will be given rights in school elections that they have never enjoyed before, and we may expect greater results in the future.

The Jeffersonian believes that women deserve a place at the head of the training of children along all lines, and they have to go into public offices to accomplish best results, let them go. We feel, however, that a woman, as a rule, has no business holding a public office. To a certain extent she must mingle with all kinds of men and do things that is not becoming a member of the fair sex. She may do effective work at the school elections in voting for good men. In the school room, and in working for the advancement of the schools in general, and should not be handicapped with "strings" of any kind in the way of restrictive laws. Give the women full power to act in school matters, and we may expect Kentucky to go forward.

Can a boy or a girl be a Christian?
Jesus says, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not (for of such is the Kingdom of God).
Verily I say unto you whosoever shall not receive the Kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein." What about Joseph, Samuel and Daniel and many other boys and girls? What Jesus said to Matthew. He is saying today to every man and woman; every boy and girl:
"Follow me."

Once upon a time there was a man who had some sheep. These were sheep and lions in that country, and sometimes a bear would catch a sheep or lamb and eat it and sometimes a lion would catch a sheep or lamb and eat it. No one one had to stay with the sheep to keep the lions and bears from eating them. The sheep were put in a place at night called a sheep-fold and were turned out during the day to eat grass. It was while out of the fold the bear or the lion would come. There were no guns then so this man sent his youngest son, and he was just a boy, to mind the sheep and take care of them. There came a bear and a lion that took a lamb out of the flock. This son killed the bear and caught the lion by his beard and killed him and took the lamb from them both and put it back in the flock.

I want every boy and girl who reads this to find the story in the Bible—what book—and if they can't find it, ask some one to find it for them. (Let the editor of The Jeffersonian know his name.) Let his father and mother and Sunday school teacher know the boy's name.

Study the Bible. These were sure enough sheep and lambs, a sure enough bear and a sure enough lion and a sure enough boy. This boy's father expected great things of him and God is expecting great things of every boy and girl who lives—every one. This boy said God helped him kill the bear and the lion and Jesus tells all his followers, "I will go with you always, even to the end of the world."

DISTRIBUTION Of Anti-Hog Cholera Serum in Kentucky By Head of Animal Husbandry.

From a State appropriation of $2,000.00 in Kentucky for the manufacture and distribution of the anti-hog cholera serum for control and suppress outbreaks of hog cholera, a small laboratory was erected at Lexington, on State grounds, under the direction of the Department of Animal Husbandry of the Kentucky Experiment Station. On February 22, 1911, actual operations began, and the Station officials themselves have inoculated 146 herds, including 5129 animals, of which 4707 animals survived, showing a mortality of 8.4 per cent. The serum alone method was used on 92 herds, including 2362 animals, of which 216 died, or a mortality of 11.2 per cent. 32 herds were treated by the serum simultaneous method, including 227 animals, of which 110 died, or a mortality of 4.7 per cent. The loss, at first thought, may seem extremely large, but it must be remembered that a large percentage of the animals were vaccinated with high temperatures, upon the urgent request of the owners. To distinguish between the serum alone and the serum simultaneous methods, it will be remembered that serum only is used where the infection is already present, to protect the sound animals that remain in the herd. The serum simultaneous method is used where the disease does not exist in the herd. There is injected into the opposite thigh, in addition to the serum alone method, a small amount of virus. The result of either of the two methods is a life-long immunity to the animal. The value of the serum inoculation for the prevention of hog cholera has passed beyond the experimental stage, and the time is now at hand when the State must take steps to prevent the enormous losses to the swine industry. To check and control hog cholera in Kentucky means the saving of a vast amount of money and the farmers are fast realizing that they must have their hogs immune to this disease. Last year one county in the State of Kentucky suffered a $50,000.00 loss from this disease alone, and the loss to the entire state is probably in the millions. The present Legislature, which has just adjourned, re-imposed the Experiment Station, with a small appropriation, and a portion of this will be used to increase the capacity for serum production. Heretofore, serum has been given at the rate of two cents per cubic centimeter, or 50 cents to vaccinate a 100 pound hog, but this price has been lowered to one cent per c.c., or costing the farmer 40 cents to the 100 pounds. This will be a great inducement for farmers to immunize their hogs against this disease, for heretofore the price of the serum has caused many to avoid it.

Second in importance to the serum treatment itself, is the fact that pigs from immune dams inherit a marked degree of immunity. This, however, is not retained for life, but it has been found that by treating the suckling pigs from immune dams, now before they are three weeks old, with a very small amount of the unmitigated virus, a permanent immunity results, not interfering with the health of the animal. This will be a great stimulus for swine breeders to keep immune dams, as the cost of immunizing the off-spring before it is three weeks old is practically nothing. We have not had unlimited experience in immunizing suckling pigs from immune dams, but up to date we have experimented on about ninety-five, with a loss of two, neither of which showed lesions of cholera on post mortem examination.

Finds Cure for Epilepsy After Years of Suffering

My daughter was afflicted with epileptic fits for three years, the attacks coming every few weeks. We employed several doctors but they did her no good. About a year ago we heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine, and it certainly has proved a blessing to our little girl. She is now apparently cured and is enjoying the best of health. It is over a year since she has had a fit. We cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine.

MRS. FRANK ANDERSON, Condit, Mo. Thousands of children in the United States who are suffering from attacks of epilepsy are a burden and sorrow to their parents, who would give anything to restore health to the sufferers.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is one of the best remedies known for this affliction. It has proven beneficial in thousands of cases and those who have used it have the greatest faith in it. It is not a "cure-all," but a reliable remedy for nervous diseases. You need not hesitate to give it a trial. Sold by all Druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned.

Almost a Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holclaw, (Clarendon, Tex.), was effected years ago in his brother.

"He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's new Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for coughs and colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—The scene at the opening of the story is laid in the library of an old-fashioned southern plantation, known as the Barony. The place is to be sold, and its history and that of the owner, the Quindara, is the subject of conversation by Jonathan Cavendish, the Quindara, a stranger known as Hamish, and Wayne Harard, a mysterious child of the old southern family, whose life appears. Yancy tells how he brought the boy.

"You have been caught passing counterfeit," said the sheriff. A light broke on the judge, a light that stunned and dazed.

"I can explain—" "Speak to them, Solomon—your know now I came by the money!" cried the judge, clutching his friend by the arm. Mahaffy opened his lips, but the crowd drowned his voice in a roar.

A tall fellow shook a long finger under Mahaffy's nose. "You scound!" Mr. Mahaffy seemed to hesitate. Some one gave him a shove and he staggered forward a step. Before he could recover himself the judge was repeated.

"Look on out of here!" yelled the tall fellow. Mahaffy was hurried to the rear. Twenty men were in chase behind him. Then the woods closed about him. His long legs, working tirelessly, carried him over fallen logs and through tangled brambles, the voices behind him growing more and more distant as he ran.

CHAPTER IX.

The Family on the Raft.

That would unquestionably have been the end of Bob Yancy when he was shot out into the muddy waters of the Elk river, had not Mr. Richard Keppel Cavendish, variously known as Long-Legged, Dingy, and Chills-and-Pever Cavendish, of Lincoln county, in the state of Tennessee, some months previously and after unprecedented mental effort on his part, decided that Lincoln county was no place for him.

Mr. Cavendish's paternal grandfather had drifted down the Holston and Tennessee; and Mr. Cavendish's father, in his son's youth, had poled up the Elk. Mr. Cavendish now determined to float down the Elk to its juncture with the Tennessee, down the Tennessee to the Ohio, and if need be, down the Ohio to the Mississippi, until he found some spot exactly suited to his taste.

With this end in view he had toiled through the late winter and early spring, building himself a raft on which to transport his few belongings and his numerous family. Thus it happened that as Mr. Mahaffy and Slosson were dragging Yancy down the lane, Cavendish was just rounding a bend in the Elk, a quarter of a mile distant. Leaning loosely against the long handle of his sweep, he was watching the line of the water that ran between the black shadows cast by the trees on either bank.

He heard a dull splash, and caught sight of some object in the eddy that swept alongside. Mr. Cavendish promptly detached himself from the handle of the sweep and ran to the edge of the raft. It was a face, livid and blood-streaked. Dropping on his knees he reached out a pair of long arms and made a dexterous grab, and his fingers closed on the collar of Yancy's shirt. He drew Yancy close alongside, and pulled him up on the raft. Mr. Cavendish began a hurried examination of the still figure.

"There's a little life here—not much, polly!" he called. "This brought Mr. Cavendish from one of the two canals that occupied the center of the raft. When she caught sight of Yancy she uttered a shriek.

Her cry had aroused the other denizens of the raft. Six little Cavendishes, each draped in a single garment, tumbled forth from their shelter. "I reckon we'd better lift him on to one of the beds—get his wet clothes off and wrap him up warm," said Polly. "Oh, put him in our bed!" cried all the little Cavendishes.

And Yancy was borne into the smaller of the two shanties, where presently his languid head rested on the long pillow. Then his wet clothes were hung up to dry along with the family baggage. On a rope stretched between the two shanties.

The sheriff had brought the judge's mupper. He reported that the crowd was dispersing, and that on the whole public sentiment was not particularly hostile; indeed, he went so far as to say there existed a strong undercurrent of satisfaction that the jail should have so speedily justified its self.

Presently the sheriff went his way into the dusk of the evening, and night came swiftly to fellowship the judge's fears. A dark, cold, and gloomy night it was. The judge sat down on the three-legged stool, which, with a shakedown bed, furnished the jail.

Where was Solomon Mahaffy, and where Hamish? He felt that Mahaffy could tend for himself, but he experienced a moment of genuine concern when he thought of the child. Then—there was a scarcely audible rustle on the margin of the woods, a dry branch snapped loudly. Next a stealthy step sounded in the clearing. The judge's eyes were on him. The cautious steps continued to approach. A whisper stole into the jail.

"Are you awake, Price?" It was Mahaffy who spoke.

"Good bless you, Solomon Mahaffy!" cried the judge, unsteadily.

"I've got the boy—he's with me," said Mahaffy.

"Good bless you better!" repeated the judge, broadly.

"I feel better now, knowing he's in good hands."

"Please, judge—it was Hamish. 'Tas dear lady!"

Country people coming to town on Sunday morning can get the Sunday Courier-Journal at Fannell Bros.

"I'm mighty sorry that ten dollars I loaned you was bad—but you don't need ever to pay it back! It was Captain Murrell gave it to me."

"I consecrate myself to his destruction! Judge Slosson Price cannot be humiliated with impunity!"

"How are you going to get me out of this, Solomon—for I suppose you are here to break jail for me," said the judge.

"Well, Price, I guess all we can do is to go back to town and see if I can get into my cabin—I've got an old saw there. If I find it, I can come again tomorrow night and cut away one of the logs, or the cleats of the door."

"In his own name, do that tonight, Solomon!" implored the judge. "Why procrastinate?"

"Price, there's a pack of dogs in this neighborhood, and we must have a full night to move in, or they'll pull us down before we've gone ten miles!"

"You're right, Solomon; I'd forgotten the dogs."

Mahaffy closed and fastened the shutters, then he and Hamish stole across the clearing and entered the woods. The judge went to bed. He was aroused by the arrival of his breakfast while the sheriff brought about eight o'clock.

"Well, if I was in your boots I couldn't sleep like you!" remarked that official admiringly. "But I reckon, Mr. Price, this ain't the first time the tentary has stared you in the face."

It was nearing the noon hour when the judge's solitude was again invaded. He first heard the distant murmur of voices on the road and passed an uneasy and restless ten minutes, with his eye to a crack in the door. He was soothed and reassured, however, when at last he caught sight of the sheriff.

"Well, judge, I got cheery for you," cried the sheriff cheerfully, as he threw open the door. "A hostess!"

He pushed into the building a man, hatless and coatless, with a pair of pale villainous eyes and a tobacco-stained chin. The judge viewed the newcomer with disfavor. As for the horse-thief, he gave his companion in misery a coldly critical stare, seated himself on the stool, and with quite a fierce air devoted all his energy to mastication. He neither altered his position nor changed his expression until he saw the judge were gone, then, catching the judge's eye, he made what seemed a casual movement with his hand, the three fingers raised, but to the judge this clearly was without significance, and the horse-thief manifested no further interest where he was concerned. He did not even condescend to answer the one or two civil remarks the judge addressed to him.

As the long afternoon wore itself away, the judge lived through the many stages of doubt and uncertainty, for suppose anything had happened to Mahaffy?

Standing before the window, the judge watched the last vestige of light fade from the sky and the stars appear. Would Mahaffy come? The suspense was intolerable. Suddenly the door broke open, a long stream of the silence about a long drawn wail. Three times it was drawn.

FLAG RAISING

At Fern Creek School Sunday Afternoon A Great Success.

The flag raising at Fern Creek school last Sunday afternoon was largely attended and proved quite a success.

Among the speakers were Rev. McCullough, of Fern Creek, Dr. Wm. Rush, of Fern Creek, Rev. Cheek, of Louisville, Supt. Orville J. Stivers, of Buechel, Judge Huffaker, a prominent lawyer, of Louisville, and Mrs. McNabb, of Louisville.

The "roll call" of the states of the Union to the present day was very appropriate to the occasion, each state was represented by a pupil of the school wearing a pennant with name of State with the date of admission to the Union.

Everyone enjoyed the selection by Miss Mary Lewis, one of our lovable teachers and a popular young lady of Louisville.

We wish, through your paper, to thank all who helped to make this "red letter day" of our school a success, and especially do we desire to thank the Order, No. 10, of the Daughters of America, for the Bible and the beautiful flag which now floats over our school, that they so kindly presented to us. And we also wish to extend congratulations to Vernon, Donnel and Hays, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mac. Cartwright, to whom Supt. Stivers presented certificates of regularity and punctuality. A PUPIL.

BITTEN BY DOGS

Two Children On Preston Street Injured While Playing With Canines.

Sallie Roberta, daughter of Mrs. S. P. Durrett, of Preston, aged three, was bitten on the arm by a dog. The dog (Miser) by name was on the funny paper and the child went to pull it away and the dog jumped at her, scratched her right cheek and hand and left the print of his teeth in her arm, one tooth going through and bruising her arm. Mrs. Durrett had sent the two babies to their grandmother's while she was at church. Medical attention was given.

Henry Schneider, aged six, son of Henry Schneider, living near the city limits on the Preston Street road, was bitten through the hip by a dog. The child was in his lap and playing with him when the dog jumped and bit him. A physician was summoned.

Middletown Should Be Proud.

Our Worthington correspondent writes: "We think Middletown may justly be proud of her beloved residing pastor, Rev. Wm. Tharp, Sr. The sketch of his life was certainly interesting, especially as we are well acquainted with his son, Rev. Wm. Tharp, Jr., who was our school teacher for two years. We hope he can live to celebrate many more birthdays."

A FANTASIA.

She stood on the edge of the forest An Indian maiden fair
The moonlight shone on her rounded arms And the breezes played in her hair; Beside her stood a warrior bold In paint and feathers trim, He bends his haughty head to her As she keeps the trust with him, But when the morning sunlight shone Over field and forest fair The lovers both had vanished I could not see them there;
But there beside the forest A bright light of moon With leaves of shining green I saw Two statues of Indian corn.
